

It is beyond belief that the "rights" of telemarketers takes precedence of the individual rights of privacy. The telemarketer made have the right to do business but "I" have the right to say leave me alone and have them adhere to it. Their right does not override my right. To allow the "Do not Call" list to be overturned or watered down in anyway is communicatins rape.